Effective Uses of PowerPoint

Dr. Kelly Warmuth, Assistant Professor of Psychology
Julie DeCesare, ITDP Coordinator

Despite the ubiquity of presentation software like PowerPoint and Keynote in higher education, faculty frequently use it poorly. Participants of this workshop will learn about some of the cognitive science behind effective lecture presentations before tutorials of some lesser-known tools in PowerPoint and Keynote. Finally, participants will be given time to practice incorporating some of these new tools into their own slides, with presenters there for support.
