1:00 - 2:00 p.m.

Light refreshments will be provided at 12:45 PM!

After our fall book group focusing on “Inclusive Teaching: How to Promote Equity in the College Classroom” by Kelly Hogan and Viji Sathy, we asked participants to contribute to ideas of what inclusive teaching means to them. Using that input, we found common themes and have produced our first iteration of a definition of inclusive teaching for Providence College. Come hear more about this definition and discuss with your colleagues how you could make your classroom more inclusive. Participants are encouraged to bring their syllabi from their classes to work on.
